

SWAN HILL DRAINAGE MODEL

SWAN HILL - ROBINVALE

About the study

Swan Hill Rural City Council is currently undertaking a drainage study of the Swan Hill and Robinvale townships. The study aims to define local flood behaviour, identify drainage issues, assess potential mitigation options and recommend a forward works program for each town. The community is invited to share your experience and make suggestions for improvement of local drainage issues.

Aim of the study

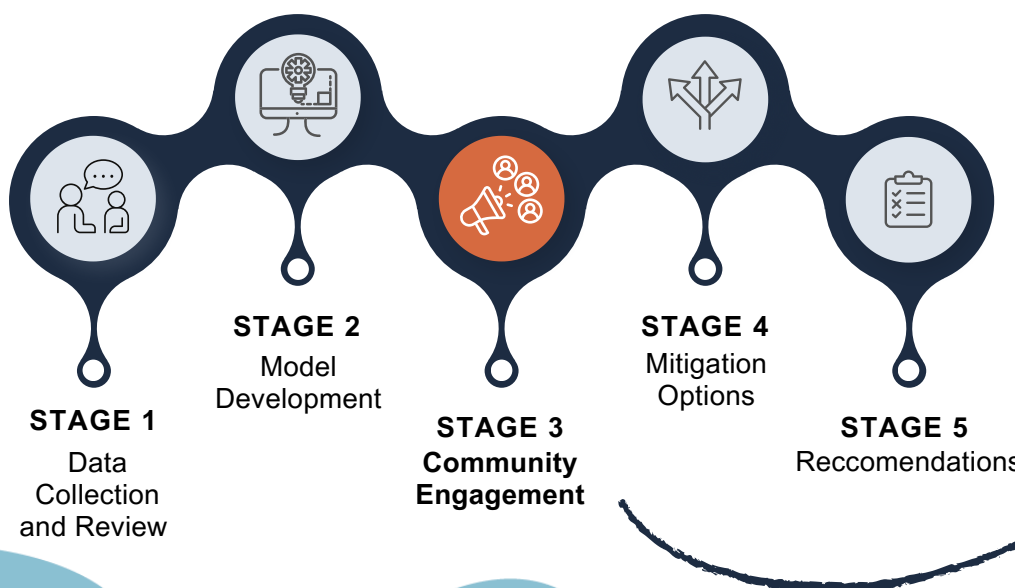

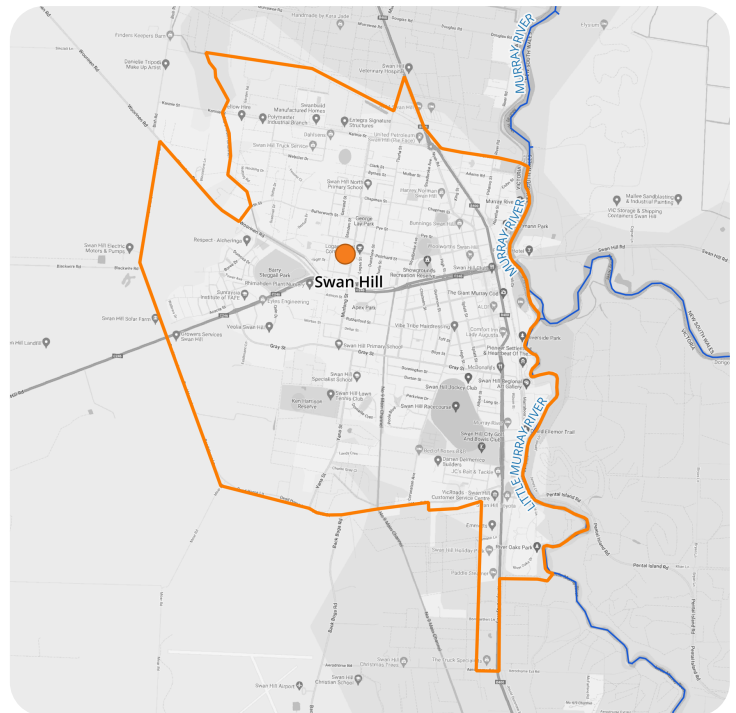

Understand community stormwater concerns and review existing drainage issues in Swan Hill and Robinvale

Develop a new flood model to identify constraints of the existing systems, evaluate impacts of future development and investigate options for improvement.

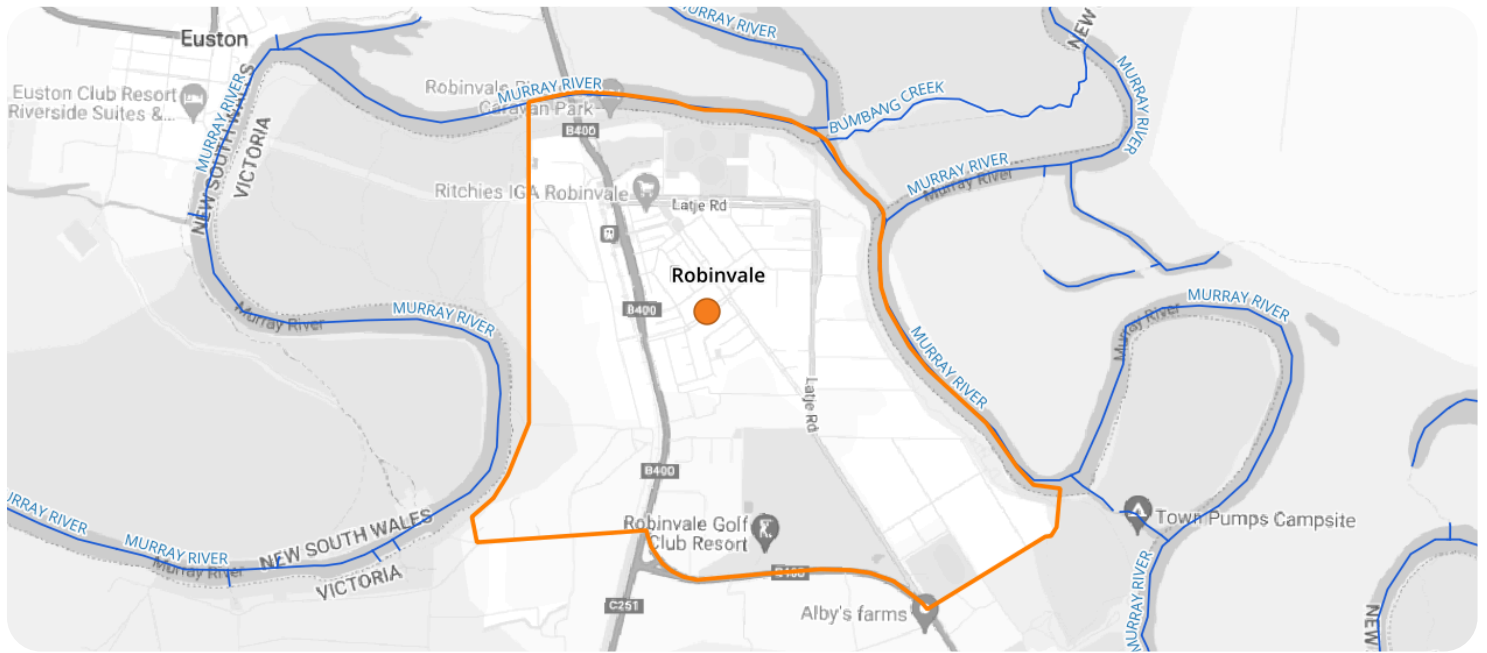

Develop a stormwater drainage project upgrade plan including proposed infrastructure and priority of works.

Council is currently undertaking Community Engagement. Residents of Swan Hill and Robinvale are invited to comment on their experience of flooding and drainage issues and make suggestions for potential mitigation options to be investigated in the next stage of the Study.

Stay Up To Date

GET INVOLVED

Community Information Drop-In Sessions

Wednesday, 11 September 2024
9:00 am - 11:00 am
Robinvale Resource Centre, 72 Herbert Street

and

Wednesday, 11 September 2024
3:30 pm - 5:30 pm
Swan Hill Council Chambers Meeting Room

Community members are encouraged to bring photos of drainage issues and will have the opportunity to suggest and discuss possible solutions.

How is community knowledge used in the Drainage Study?

The community drop-in session provides an opportunity to learn more about the study, share your experiences of flooding in the region, and make suggestions for potential mitigation options (such as culvert upgrades, new detention basins, or other changes to existing drainage infrastructure).

The project team will use flood models to test the effectiveness of different mitigation options and make recommendations for implementation.

Catherine Walker
Project Manager
E: swanhill@wmseng.com.au
Swan Hill Rural City Council
E: council@swanhill.vic.gov.au

